

SAEINDIA – GECA COLLEGIATE CLUB

As a part of Job Search/Career Guidance for 2018-2019, we will be holding Mock Interview Seminar #1: Interviews are Communication.

Content of the seminar

What type of interviewers do you handle well? How about those that are more difficult for you? Persons from technical/human resources will conduct mock interviews, so why not come and give your communication skills a try?

Here are some types of interviews that an organization can arrange.

- A. Exploration interviews: This type of interview is designed to find an interviewee's character by asking 'why' repeatedly.
- B. Interviews full of single questions: In this type of interview, an interviewer doesn't deeply pursue one question but rather asks questions in rapid succession.
- C. Friendly interviews: In this type of conversational interview, the interviewer compliments the interviewee by saying "That's great." whenever he/she answers.
- D. Informal or conversational interviews: In this type of interview, no self-appraisal is asked and the interviewer "goes with the flow" with topics such as the interviewee's job hunting and hobbies.
- E. Stress interviews: It is designed to place the interviewee in a stress situation in order to observe how the interviewee reacts.
